

ROTHBERG CATALYZER AT PENN

The Rothberg Catalyzer at Penn is excited to accept 37 student teams into the Fall 2019 #CatalyzeratPenn Makerthon. As a thank you to all the amazing students that applied and submitted their ideas, Penn Health-Tech is proud to share these statistics on our selected applicants.

APPLICANT DEMOGRAPHICS

- School of Engineering and Applied Science
- Perelman School of Medicine
- College of Arts and Sciences
- Integrated Product Design Program
- Management & Technology Program
- The Wharton School
- School of Design
- School of Nursing
- College of Liberal & Professional Studies

SCHOOLS AND PROGRAM OF SELECTED APPLICANTS

140 STUDENTS SELECTED

Over 200 students submitted applications for the Rothberg Catalyzer Makerthon. Of those, 140 students (37 teams) were selected across various academic levels and schools/programs.

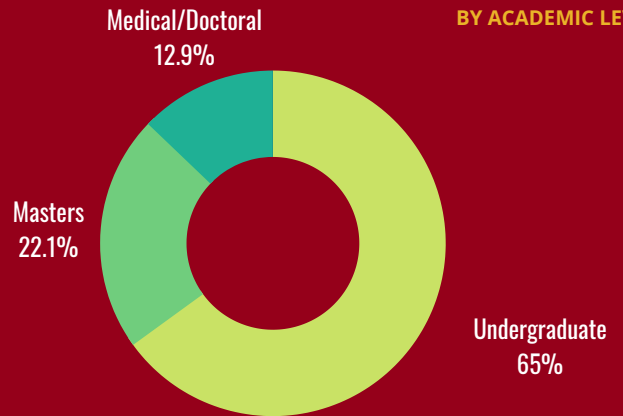

Percentage of selected women applicants

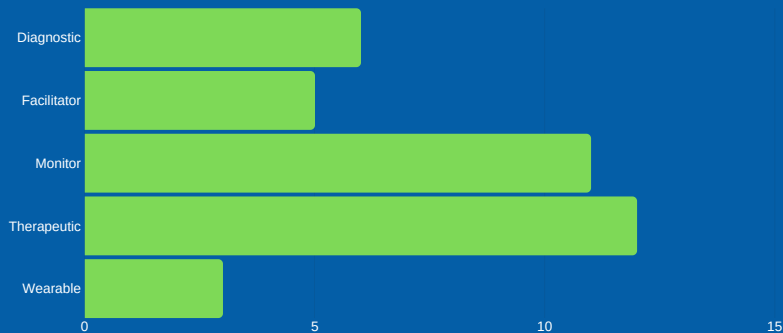

41%

Our 2019 Design Studio workshops are led by women faculty members

SELECTED APPLICANTS BY ACADEMIC LEVEL

PROJECT TYPES

37 TEAMS TO PROTOTYPE ACROSS 5 PROJECT CATEGORIES

Student teams proposed prototypes across the following categories: Diagnostic, Facilitator, Monitor, Therapeutic, and Wearable